Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

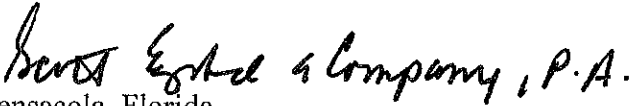

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

To The Board of Directors

Note 1—Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization and Program Activities

The Ronald McDonald House Charities of Northwest Florida, Inc., (House) is a Florida “not-for-profit” corporation, incorporated in 1981 under the name Gulf Coast Children’s Medical Foundation, Inc. There is no paid-in capital or shareholders and the daily affairs are governed by the Board of Directors. The primary purpose is providing a home-away-from-home for parents of children who are suffering from a medical crisis at a local medical facility.

Financial Statement Presentation

The House is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets, and permanently restricted net assets. Net assets are classified based on externally imposed restrictions, if any, that may or may not be met by actions of management or by the passage of time.

Contributions

Contributions are recognized when donors make promises to give that are, in substance, unconditional. Contributions are recorded as unrestricted, temporarily restricted, or permanently restricted revenues, depending on the existence and/or nature of any donor restrictions. Donor-restricted contributions are reported as an increase in temporarily or permanently restricted net assets, depending on the nature of the restriction. When a restriction expires (that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished), temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and are reported as net assets released from restrictions.

Investments

Investments in marketable securities with readily determinable fair values and all investments in debt securities are valued at their fair values in the statements of financial position. Unrealized gains and losses are included in the change in net assets.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Organization’s financial instruments consist primarily of cash, promises to give, investment securities, and accounts payable. The carrying amount of cash and accounts payable approximate their fair value due to the short-term nature of such instruments. Promises to give are reported at fair value using the present value technique. The fair values of investment securities are based on quoted market prices.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment is stated at cost or, if donated, at fair market value on date of gift. The House capitalizes all asset acquisitions over $1,000. Depreciation is provided for on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets as follows:

Buildings and improvements	7–40 years
Furniture and fixtures	3–10 years
Equipment	3–7 years

Donated Materials and Services

Donated goods are recorded in the financial statements at their estimated fair value on the date of the gift. Donated services are recognized as contributions if the services (a) create or enhance nonfinancial assets or (b) require specialized skills, are performed by people with those skills, and would otherwise be purchased by the House. Numerous volunteers have donated significant amounts of time to the House's fundraising and program services. Although no amounts have been reflected in the financial statements, management estimates the fair market value of those services to be approximately $259,350 and $207,679 for the years ended December 31, 2015 and 2014, respectively.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Functional Allocation of Expenses

The costs of providing various programs and other activities have been summarized on a functional basis in the statement of activities and itemized in the statements of functional expenses. Accordingly, certain costs have been allocated among program, fundraising, and management and general expenses.

Income Taxes

The House is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code. Accordingly, no provision for federal or state income taxes has been recognized. The House annually files federal information returns (Form 990), which are subject to possible examination by the taxing authorities until the expiration of the related statute of limitations, which is generally three years.

Management believes it has no uncertain tax positions that qualify for either recognition or disclosure in the financial statements and no returns are currently under examination.

Cash Equivalents

The House considers all liquid investment instruments with original maturities of three months or less as cash equivalents.

Events Occurring After Reporting Date

The House has evaluated events and transactions that occurred between December 31, 2015, and April 28, 2016, which is the date the financial statements were available to be issued, for possible recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.

Reclassifications

Certain amounts for 2014 have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

Note 2—Concentration of Credit Risk

The House maintains its cash at three separate financial institutions. Cash accounts at each bank are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (“FDIC”) up to $250,000 per financial institution. At December 31, 2015, the House had cash balances held by financial institutions in excess of insured limits of $78,860.

Management of the House reviews long-lived assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of the assets may not be recoverable. Recoverability is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of the assets to future net cash flows expected to be generated by the assets. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair market value of the assets. As of December 31, 2015, none of the House's long-lived assets were considered to be materially impaired.
